

Beta Alpha Psi Annual Meeting

August 15-16, 2025, Date and Time TBD

Mangala Prasetia, National Australia Bank

Delivery Method: Group Live

Title: From Ledgers to Lineage - the role of Accountants in leading Data Governance

Session Description: As the accounting profession evolves in a data-driven world, the role of accountants is expanding beyond financial stewardship to include data stewardship. This session explores the critical intersection between accounting and data governance, equipping participants with insights into how data governance frameworks support compliance, audit quality, and business decision-making. Through real-world examples and interactive discussions, participants will discover how mastering data governance can enhance their value as professionals and educators in the digital economy.

Learning Objectives:

1. Define the core principles of data governance and how they relate to accounting practices.
2. Explain why data governance is critical for ensuring auditability, transparency, and regulatory compliance.
3. Identify common data quality issues in financial systems and their impact on financial reporting.
4. Analyze how accountants and educators can integrate data governance concepts into professional practice and curriculum.
5. Apply a data governance lens to case studies involving financial systems, compliance breaches, or data-driven decision-making.

6. Recognize emerging career opportunities at the intersection of accounting, data, and governance.
